CNT14: Shorten the learning curve— CNC shop & software essentials in just 30mins

This course is made for shop owners who want to automate, but are intimidated by technology. CNC Factory's Chris Corrales breaks down the fundamentals of operating a CNC-run cabinet shop, and what you need and don't need to learn when you have 5th generation CNC technology. You'll learn the pros and cons of popular CNC software, and what you need to know to make yours easily work for you. You'll see how even operators with zero experience can be competent CNC rock stars on their very first day of production. Lastly, we discuss what type and how much technical support you should look for from a CNC manufacturer.
